The Marsh Christian Trust and the PMSA invite nominations for the Marsh Award for Excellence in Public Sculpture 2011. The £1,750 award can be won outright, or shared, for a newly commissioned public sculpture* or a restoration (unveiled or completed since 30 October 2009).

Please complete and post or email the form below, no later than 30 April 2011, having visited the site.

In addition, please provide:

- (a) clear photographs/articles in publications or a web-link to a good quality online image
- (b) a clear description
- (c) details of the artist(s) or restorer(s).

Please note we exclude sculptural fountains from possible nominations since a separate Marsh Award covers them.

If you are not a PMSA member and would like to nominate a work then joining the PMSA is very easy. For membership information and an application form, please visit our website. If membership is not possible and you would like to nominate a work please contact us and we will try to help to find you a Secunder.

What counts as public sculpture? For the purposes of this award, anything sculptural or commemorative out of doors in the public eye, except for works in churchyards (other than church-yard monuments that are erected by public subscription). Pieces on display in a corporate setting can be considered, if visible from a public place. Temporary pieces are not eligible. The award is for work on view in the UK, Ireland, Channel Islands and Isle of Man. The final decision lies with the Award Committee and the winner(s) will be announced before end of 2011.
